Celebrating our Customers and Communities

On Sept. 12,1872, Warren A. Bechtel was born. Twenty-five years later, he would set out from his ranch in Kansas with his wife, Clara, and his only assets - a pair of mules – to search for work building railroads.

That journey in 1898 would give rise to the founding of our company and a 120-year legacy of iconic projects, first in the American West and then across the globe.

From building railroads and highways to pipelines and dams, Warren was a born engineer, a bold entrepreneur, and a visionary innovator whose name would become synonymous with excellence in our industry.

Five generations and 25,000 projects later, those same ideals drive Bechtel today.
